VICES

Wine is the perfect holiday gift. Nearly everyone loves a glass of wine with dinner or as a standalone beverage. Every year that passes, there are more and more brands on store shelves from U.S. producers and the rest of the world too. Making a choice can be a bit daunting, but fear not, because I've done the heavy lifting for you, tasting through a large quantity of different wine in a myriad of price points and styles. The wines below have one thing in common: they're all really delicious. So whether you'd like to spend less than $20 or nearly $2,000 on a wine gift, there's something for you below.

Stags Leap Collection ($1,999)

If there is someone on your gift list who really, really loves Cabernet Sauvignon, and you're inclined to spend large on them, you'd be hard pressed to do better than this set. Stags Leap in Napa Valley is one of the preeminent homes for Cabernet Sauvignon. The collection consists of a bottle each from 17 of the producers. I've tasted the entire collection the past couple of vintages and it's an extremely impressive collection of Cabernet Sauvignon. Only 150 sets will be sold.
